What Kinds of Programs Are Star Rated?

Most early learning and development programs can be Star Rated including:

- Family child care
- Full day, part day, part year
- Head Start
- Montessori
- Parent co-ops
- Preschool
- Preschool Special Education
- Public school preschool
- Reggio
- Faith-based centers

How Will Step UpTo Quality Help My Child?

- According to the 2016 SUTQ Validation Study, children who regularly attend Star Rated programs score higher on Ohio's Kindergarten Readiness Assessment.
- Step UpTo Quality rated programs plan learning activities that meet your child's individual needs using the Ohio Early Learning and Development Standards.
- Teachers in Step UpTo Quality rated programs focus on building relationships with families and communities which support your child's progress and well being.

How I feel is important and my teacher knows that.

I learn in lots of different ways and my teacher encourages me to use all of them.

There's so much to know and my teacher gives me lots of chances to discover my world.

I learn new words every day. My teacher talks with me, asks me questions, reads to me and helps me write down my ideas.

My body is growing fast and my teacher knows I need to move to be healthy and strong.

How Does Your Child Spend the Day?

There are 1,892 days from birth until school starts. Step UpTo Quality programs know every day matters.

Research Shows That Quality Matters

Research confirms that when a program takes steps to increase quality, the children they teach are better prepared for the future. Children display more confidence, a curiosity about the world around them and are eager to learn. These are important skills for success in school and in life.
